ALTERNATE CHARACTER ACCESS

There are nine Stylistic Sets, providing flexible access to alternate characters in Proxima Soft. In applications that support it, the name of the Stylistic Set will be displayed (e.g., “Schoolbook Style”):

Set	Name	Roman	Italic
1	Schoolbook Style	a l y → a l y	l y → l y
2	Geometric Sans Style	G a → G a	G → G
3	Alternate Uppercase G	G → G	G → G
4	Alternate Roman Lowercase a	a → a	a*
5	Alternate Italic Lowercase a	a*	a → a
6	Alternate Lowercase l	l → l	l → l
7	Alternate Lowercase y	y → y	y → y
8	Straight Quotes to Primes	' " → ' "	' " → ' "
9	Tabular One with Serifs	1 → 1	1 → 1

* no change

In programs that support Stylistic Sets, more than one Set may be applied at a time. For example, Stylistic Set 1 (the “Primer” Set) could be recreated by applying Sets 4, 6, and 7 all at once.

Note that Stylistic Sets 4 and 5 affect roman and italic differently. If you prefer to have a two-story lowercase “a” in italic as well as roman, apply Set 5. The roman “a” will retain its normal two-story design because Set 5 has no effect on the roman. Similarly, if you prefer to have a one-story “a” in both roman and italic, apply Set 4 instead, which changes the roman but not the italic.

STYLISTIC MAPPING (PLAIN, ITALIC, BOLD, BOLD ITALIC)

In Microsoft Office and other Windows applications, Proxima Soft is broken into smaller “sub-families” that work with the I (italic) and B (bold) buttons on toolbars.

Only the first member of each group appears in the font listing in such applications and is the “plain” style within that group. The others are “italic,” “bold,” and “bold italic” respectively:

Group 1: Thin, Thin Italic

Group 2: Light, Light Italic

Group 3: Regular, Regular Italic, Bold, Bold Italic

Group 4: Medium, Medium Italic

Group 5: Semibold, Semibold Italic

Group 6: Extrabold, Extrabold Italic

Group 7: Black, Black Italic

For example, to use Proxima Soft Bold Italic, choose Proxima Soft Regular from the font list and then click the I and B buttons on the toolbar (or use the keyboard shortcuts). Note: The “bold” button only works with the Regular style. The “italic” button works with all styles.

Stylistic mapping is the same for Condensed and Extra Condensed. Not all applications support stylistic mapping.

Use of stylistic mapping is optional and not necessarily recommended for some pre-press workflows.
